MINERS' TRIAL UNDER WAY IN WEST VIRGINIA

Arrangements for Selection of Jury in Treason Case are Made.

TWENTY THREE HELD

Leaders Are Charged With Most Serious Crime on State's Code

Charlestown, W. Va., April 25.—Arrangements for the selection of a jury to try 23 miners indicted for treason against the state of West Virginia were begun this morning.

Judge J. N. Wood, when court convenes, will pass upon the motion to quash the indictments, which he took under advisement late yesterday, and it is generally believed that he will hold the charges sufficient and that the miners' leaders of districts 17 and 29 must stand trial.

The 23 men charged with the most serious crime under the state's penal code, will enter pleas of not guilty.

Under the West Virginia law, the statute pertaining to treason provides for punishment on conviction of death, imprisonment from three to ten years in the penitentiary or confiscation of the property of the defendants.

The overt act of treason charged against the defendants was that of waging war against the state, an alleged attempt to overthrow the government of Logan and Mingo counties and to liberate prisoners held in Mingo county under the governor's proclamation of martial law.

An effort will be made by state's attorneys to pin responsibility for the acts of each member of the miners' "army" upon every other party to the alleged rebellion. A continual legal battle on this point is in prospect.

Since the death penalty is a possibility under the law, the prospective jurors were to be questioned as to their belief in capital punishment and as to whether they would be willing to return a verdict, calling for the extreme punishment on circumstantial evidence. This is the only difficulty confronting the court in the picking of a jury, officials believe.

Jefferson county is far from the scene of the miners' march. The quaint people in this ancient town, tucked away in the hills of the Potomac Valley have little in common with the industrial war-torn coal fields of Kanawha, Boone, Logan and Mingo counties.

The jury will be composed largely of farmers and small storekeepers of Charlestown, a hamlet described as being the only town in the south which has not changed in the last one hundred years.

The townspeople are taking little interest in the trials. S. C. Young, postmaster, who, as a lad of 13 years, attended the trial of John Brown abolitionist, in the same court house, was present a few moments this morning. There were one or two other spectators who were boys when the abolitionist was tried and convicted of high treason and hanged in a nearby vacant lot.

Once the jury is empaneled, the taking of evidence will be started at once. Among the important witnesses are Colonel William E. Eubanks, Welch, who commanded the forces in Logan county; Colonel William Wiley star witness before the senate committee investigating the mine fields.

SUB CHASERS ARE USED BY RUNNERS

New York, April 25.—Customs officials announced yesterday that they were working to smash a rich bootlegger ring which they charged has mobilized a fleet of former submarine chasers, to meet creation of America's "dry navy."

The federal agents are working on the theory that the swift craft that once pursued German U-boats, were sold after the war, now are posing as naval vessels and, commanded by officers in the uniform of the United States, have succeeded in running $3,000,000 worth of rum into the United States from Bermuda and Havana.

GIRL WHO LEFT SCHOOL STOPS OVER IN DAYTON

Dayton, O., April 25.—Miss Bernice Hollinshead, of Port Clinton, one of two girls who disappeared from the seminary at Northfield, Mass., more than a week ago, and located Sunday by her brother at Fitchburg, Mass., employed in a cafeteria, today is enroute to Detroit with her brother Melvin, where she will remain until her parents return from Florida. She visited over night at the home of Rev. L. M. Baum here her uncle, in this city. She said that she and Emma Safford, another student feared the oncoming examinations and decided to quit school and open a tearoom at Fitchburg. They had $28 between them so they got a job instead.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS IN KENTUCKY HILLS FOLLOW DECISION

Former Feudists Scour Country-side to Round Up People

Manchester, Ky., April 25.—Former feudists, members of the Philpot-Benge factions, which a few weeks ago were seeking to kill one another but, mad, peace, today are scouring the hills of the Mill Creek sections side by side to round up all the residents on an order from Judge Hiram Johnson of the circuit court.

Following the shooting from ambush of deputy Pitt Stiver, who had gone into the section with four men to arrest those accused of the murder of a witness in a case and reports that the Mill Creek people would never submit to the law, Judge Johnson issued 200 warrants and gave orders that every man, woman and child in the Mill Creek region be brought into court.

Officers reported to him that the whole region was given over to moonshine making and murder, and that the dwellers had entrenched themselves and were provided with high power rifles and guns of big calibre and were prepared to resist to the death.

MERCHANTS WILL NOT PROSECUTE STUDENT

Granville Ohio, April 25.—Not one merchant whose place of business was broken into Wednesday night will make an affidavit charging George Phypers, a student of the Doane Academy, Dennison University, or any student who may be implicated with burglary.

A crowd of students gathered in the business section of the village as a demonstration against the merchants, declaring that student trade would be withdrawn if they signed affidavits against Phypers.

The decision of the merchants not to prosecute, however, was made known previous to Sunday night's incident, a number of merchants declaring they would not prosecute a boy.

Phypers' arrest was brought about last Saturday after it became known that he had visited a Columbus physician for treatment of a gunshot wound alleged to have been received while attempting to break into a store.

Phypers is free under bond. No other students have been arrested.

Bootleggers Aiding Dry Cause Declares Parker

Prohibition Commissioner Says That Consumer of Hootch Becoming Afraid of Stuff Which Has Poisoned Many

Columbus, April 25.—Distillers and bootleggers are helping dry officials in bringing about better enforcement of prohibition in Ohio declared State Prohibition Commissioner Parker.

This unique declaration was explained by Commissioner Parker who said that hootch is all that bootleggers can obtain now and that the drinking of the stuff is causing numerous inflamed and deranged digestive tracts and broken down nervous systems, owners of which are being

CITY IS FLOODED FOLLOWING HEAVY DOWNPOUR OF RAIN

Trinity River Now at 33.5 Feet as 7 1/2 Inches of Rain Falls

DAMAGE IS LARGE

Lumber Company Destroyed by Fire as Help is Not Available

Fort Worth, Texas, April 25.—The Trinity river, which jumped 25 feet in less than 12 hours, to a flood stage of 33.5 feet, swept the city with the worst flood in its history today.

It was feared several lives have been lost. The damage, it was estimated, will exceed a half million dollars.

The flood was caused by a seven and one-half inch rain fall which began at 10 o'clock last night and was still continuing today.

Large areas of the city were under water and families were being rescued by boats.

The Cameron Lumber company's plant was destroyed by fire with a loss estimated at over $200,000, the firemen being unable to reach the plant because of the flood.

Frantic efforts were being made today to strengthen the levee along the Trinity River.

Residents of Arlington Heights were entirely cut off from the city by water today.

At noon two deaths had been reported and at least 1,500 were temporarily homeless.

The two victims were women, names unknown, who had taken refuge in a tree.

They were swept from the tree and their bodies had not been recovered. The Red Cross headquarters were besieged with persons seeking missing friends and relatives.

One of the water works plants was closed down because of the flood. The levee protecting part of North Fort Worth broke this morning and low lands in that section were quickly inundated. Several houses were washed away.

Sycamore Heights on the opposite side of the city, was also flooded and scores of houses were surrounded by water. Thousands of persons residing on Arlington Heights were completely cut off by the flood and could not reach the business section of the city.

At the Van Zandt Viaduct the river was 50 feet wide. One street near the viaduct was under from 8 to 10 feet of water for a distance of half a mile.

Shortly after 10 o'clock this morning the flood waters short circuited telephone cables and wire communication with the outside world.

Dallas, Texas, April 25.—Torrential rains approximately five inches in this city, have flooded vast areas in this section today. Many railroads and interurban connections are severed.

CALL GRAND JURY IN SPECIAL SESSION

Columbus, April 25.—The Franklin county grand jury is to be convened in special session here this afternoon according to announcement made by Franklin county prosecutor King, to consider the cases of Ralph Fields, Charles Johnson and John F. Hill, local negroes, under arrest, who, police said, have confessed robbing the Steelton branch, South Parsons Avenue of the Citizens' Trust and Savings bank here last Tuesday.

Anticipating the handing down of indictments before night, arrangements are under way, it is said for placing the men on trial next week.

When arraigned in municipal court today, the prisoners waived examination and were bound over. Bonds were fixed at $100,000 each.

They were treated in sanitariums, hospitals and homes.

As a consequence, he said, the number of hootch drinkers is constantly diminishing.

Another material aid to law enforcement in Ohio, Commissioner Parker said, is his group of five state inspectors who are auting about the state, raiding stills and speakeasies and arresting bootleggers. These inspectors, he said, are "cleaning up" about three municipalities, on an average, each week.

A NEW AIR JITNEY FOR EVERY HOME

Lawrence Sperry of New York has invented an "air jitney" which drinks at your favorite gas station, can travel

100 miles an hour, costs less than a Ford and can land in the street that fronts your lawn. It weighs 500 pounds, and "parks" in your private garage.

War Continues In Ireland But Hope of Peace Seen

Irish People More Hopeful of Ultimate Peace Following Monday's General Tie-Up—Workers' Republic Is Failure.

London, April 25.—A new outburst of fighting is reported in the Bal-lagh Ridge district of Aughnacloy, according to a Belfast dispatch to the Star this afternoon.

The intensity of the firing forced farmers to evacuate their homes. Railway lines have been fired upon. Special constabulary has been reinforced and the situation is reported serious.

Dublin, April 25.—Irish people today were more hopeful of ultimate peace between warring factions, following yesterday's general strike. The only untoward events which marred the otherwise quiet day were the reported seizure of masonic halls by mutineers and the murder of sergeant John Ginn.

There were well founded reports today that the next few days will see an agreement whereby Military methods by factions in the Irish republican army will be abandoned. It is possible that the Dail Eireann, its meeting tomorrow will consider the situation.

The attempt of Irish workers to proclaim a Workers' Republic was a flat failure, encouraging provisional free state leaders. The unsuccessful attempt served to indicate the baselessness of reports that communists were strong in Ireland.

Bamonn DeValera, leader of the forces fighting against the Free state treaty, continues to call on the people

BRITISH PREMIER OPENLY ATTACKS FRANCE'S POLICY

Speech of Poincare Monday Scored by Lloyd George As Wrong.

Genoa, April 25.—Prime Minister Lloyd George of England today emphatically challenged French policy regarding treatment of Russia and Germany, as outlined by the French premier, M. Poincare, in his speech at Bar Le Duc yesterday.

"We will have nothing to do with a policy of that kind," said a statement authorized by the British premier, issued here this afternoon. "We are not afraid of a German, or Russian menace, but will do our utmost to prevent Europe from being made a shambles."

"If peace is not made, if Russia and Germany are left in isolation and misery, the inevitable result will be the conclusion between these two of a fierce friendship directed against the entire west of Europe."

The statement further widens the gulf between the French and British points of view and constitutes another check to the growth of international accord in the Genoa conference.

London, April 25.—Premier Poincare has instructed M. Barthou, head of the French delegation at Genoa, to insist on the terms of his Bar Le Duc speech and demand a 48-hour ultimatum to Russia, says a Central News Dispatch from Genoa this afternoon.

NAPOLEON HAD TO PLAN ON TROOPS AND HIS MOVES

Napoleon, it has been said, studied by maps at night, and indicated with different colored pins, the position of his own troops, that of the enemy and all important objectives.

Thus he carefully planned the next day's work and issued his orders accordingly.

He simply had to plan—to be careful and cautious.

And just so in advertising, you must carefully plan your next advertisement, your next sale that all departments, all clerks may properly and profitably function.

Don't be in a hurry. Plan carefully just what you will do in an advertising way—it's not difficult to reason the satisfying results.

SHANTUNG BLAMED FOR CHINA'S CIVIL WAR THREATENING

Old Military Head of Northern Faction Says Peninsula Cause

Cheng Cho Who, China April 25.—Shantung is the underlying cause of China's impending civil war, according to General Tso un, old military head of the Wu Pei Fu faction of Northern China, who has returned to active service to head Wu's forces.

I found general Tso here in the midst of a great troop movement towards Shantung.

"Shantung," he told me, "is the underlying cause of the present war. 'Chang Tso Lin would control Chinese mineral resources and mines for the purpose of exploiting them jointly with Japan."

"We will crush Chang within a month and win Shantung for China. It is our purpose, to strive to accomplish a union with Sun Yat Sen of Southern China."

WEDDING PERFORMED IN MIDAIR; BRIDE SINGS INTO PHONE

Minneapolis, L. I., April 25.—An aerial wedding in which the bridegroom, minister and flower girl flew in an airplane over Manhattan, was performed while the plane was 2,500 feet above Times square yesterday afternoon. There were several persons in the plane, Albert P. Schalk, the bridegroom; Miss Sarah Cockfair, the bride; Rev. Delvin W. Maynard, who performed the ceremony; the flower girl, a radio phone operator, a newspaperman and Bert Acosta, pilot.

After the ceremony the bride sang "I Love You" into a radio phone, and the words were heard by friends and relatives who had gathered on the flying field.

After the plane left the flying field it rose to a height of 1000 feet from where the bride dropped flowers from her bouquet. These were picked up by friends and relatives.

At 10:30 o'clock this morning the couple left in a plane for Albany, from where they will go to a mountain home at Tupper Lake.

While in the air Rev. Mr. Maynard who was the winner of the recent transcontinental flight, changed his flying costume to a minister's robes. After the ceremony he again donned his flying costume.

The bridegroom is 30 years old and an athletic director. The bride was a nurse. Fifteen nurses from the hospital were present when the machine sailed into the air.

CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Dayton, O., April 25.—James Paul Lawless faces charges of manslaughter, for running down Vernon Hunter and killing him with his automobile and going right ahead without stopping. The grand jury retained the indictment. Forty other persons were also indicted.

JOCKEY IS ARRESTED.

New York, April 25.—Lawrence Lyke, a prominent jockey and Thomas McTaggart, formerly well known rider are under arrest, charged with assaulting a policeman, following an altercation brought on by the policeman's charge that Lyke was guilty of recklessly driving an automobile.

RUSSIA DEMANDS LOAN OF FIVE BILLION GOLD RUBLES FROM ALLIES

Soviet Also Asks 30-Year Moratorium In Tentative Draft Treaty Submitted to Genoa Conference—To Pay Pre-War Debts.

ON BRINK OF FAILURE.

The Genoa conference stands again today on the brink of failure or open rupture.

Russia has demanded a thirty year moratorium and five billions ruble loan as the price of recognition of the pre-war debts.

Premier Poincare of France is reported to have instructed the French delegation to demand a 48 hour ultimatum to Russia.

Lloyd George is quoted as branding Poincare's uncompromising Bay Le Duc speech as "ill advised."

The British premier has disagreed with the Poincare policies and indicate in his conviction that such policies make the situation of Europe today delicate and dangerous in the extreme.

There is danger, Lloyd George indicated of Europe again becoming a shambles.

The Pall Mall Gazette, official organ of the Lloyd George published revelations today that Washington knew of the intention of Russia and Germany to form an economic alliance and foreseeing the present crisis refused for that reason to join the Genoa conference.

Genoa, April 25.—Russia demands from the allies a five billion gold ruble loan and a thirty-year moratorium.

The demand for five billion gold ruble loan was verbal, accompanying the document, and is believed to be tentative figure, over which the soviet is ready to negotiate.

The facts are obtained from the official text of a tentative draft of the treaty submitted by the Russian delegation to the Genoa conference committee of experts on Russian affairs last night.

The document obtained exclusively by the International News Service today was the subject of hours of wrangling by the experts last night resulting finally in such divergencies of opinion that the experts adjourned. It contains in detail the terms exclusively announced by the International News Service last Thursday.

1.—Soviet to pay prewar debts to foreign governments and individuals.

2.—Soviet to receive de Jure recognition as the government of Russia.

3.—Interest on debts be annulled.

The break up of last night's meeting, caused by these terms, has led to rumors that they may call forth an allied ultimatum to Russia. Until the conditions are more fully analyzed this rumor should be accepted with reserve since the tentative treaty contains sweeping concessions.

The document makes no mention of war time Russian debts, which the soviet claims do not exist, or have been written off.

"First section:

Upon the condition of immediate and adequate financial aid for Russia and de Jure recognition of the soviet government: Article one—the Russian government, declares herself ready to pay the financial obligations of former imperial Russia, contracted prior to August 1, 1914 to foreign powers and their nationals. It is understood that the right of reclamation under the terms of the article is confined to those who were legal holders of such obligations prior to March 1917.

A: This article does not apply to countries which have territorial questions at issue with Russia which have not yet been settled.

B: Questions comprised in the note to article one of the London memorandum shall be reserved for examination by a political commission.

(The section of the London memorandum referred to the propriety of the title "soviet government")

"Article Two: The Russian government, undertakes to cause Russian local authorities to recognize the financial engagements made by them with the powers regarding debts of foreign nationals.

"Not included in the stipulations below are such engagements as were made after November 7, 1917, by local authorities which have not since then, been under the authority of the central government of the soviet.

"The government of Russia recognizes all engagements of public utility enterprises guaranteed by the former government of Russia.

"Article three: The government of Russia declares itself disposed to restore to foreigners the enjoyment of their national properties nationalized or requisitioned, in cases where this is possible in view of the social and economic system and fundamental laws of Russia, that is to say accord them primary right of concession to their former properties or preference participation in societies or trusts in cases where the possessions of such trusts provided these rights of enjoyment shall be established for a period and under conditions to be fixed separately in each case.

"The government of Russia is likewise disposed to satisfy such claims of foreign expropriators as it will have found just and which do not conflict with present conditions, by free accord between the government of Russia and former owners, such accord to be reached by means which might be fixed during this conference.

Article four. Arrears of interest and interests accumulated until the termination of thirty years moratorium, as well as a mortization of debts, and obligations of all kinds mentioned in Article one to three shall be annulled.

"Article Five: The powers on their part, declare themselves prepared to restore to Russia its property of all kinds now in foreign countries (for instance, precious metals, immovable goods, merchant men) as well as settle all their financial obligations and obligations of their nationals toward the government of Russia."

"Article six: Resumption of payments accruing from the financial engagements accepted by the Government of Russia by virtue of articles 1, 2, and 3, including payment of interest, will begin after elapse of (space left blank) after the signature of this agreement."

FROST INJURES ALL FRUITS IN CENTRAL OHIO

One Exception is Late Apple Crop Declares U. S. Weatherman.

SOUTH IS SAFE

Little Damage Experienced In Southern Part of the State.

Columbus, April 25.—That all fruits in Central Ohio, except late blooming apples, were seriously injured by the killing frost last week is indicated by reports received by United States Weatherman Alexander, he announced here today.

"In northern Ohio, some injury was done to peach, cherry and plum trees and, possibly, to early apples, except near Lake Erie," continued Weatherman Alexander.

"Practically little damage was done in the extreme south portion of the state."

Cloudy weather and generally rising temperature last night thwarted the weatherman's prediction of frost. The higher temperature varied from two to six degrees above that of the preceding night and ranged from 40 degrees at Canton to 54 in Henry county.

Optimistic reports on the condition of Ohio's fruit, crop are on file today at the offices of State Director of Agriculture Taber. Despite the killing frosts during the past weeks, these reports indicate that fruit trees along Lake Erie practically escaped harm, that those south of Columbus were damaged approximately 40 per cent and those north of Columbus got off with a less per centage of injury. Apple trees all along the Ohio river, it is said were damaged only slightly.

Director Taber declared that, due to the heavy bloom this year, there will be at least a fair crop of fruit in Ohio, notwithstanding the fact that the tops of some orchards have been completely killed.

WOULD BE BLUNDER SEC. WEEKS SAYS

Washington, April 25.—Congress could commit "no greater folly," than to reduce the enlisted strength of the United States army below 150,000 men, Secretary of War Weeks declared today before the senate appropriations committee.

Weeks said that the allowance made by the reduction of enlisted personnel to 115,000 are "below safe requirements."

"I am convinced" he told the committee "that they are inconsistent with the requirements of real economy and sound business principle."

LOAN TO CANADA IS ANNOUNCED BY MORGAN

New York, April 25.—Formal announcement of the loan of $100,000,000 to the Canadian government by a syndicate of bankers headed by J. P. Morgan was made today. The bonds mature in thirty years and pay five percent interest.

The proceeds of the loan will be used by the Canadian government to refund the existing debt of the country.

HENRY CLEWS

Weekly Financial Review

Sacredly less important than those of the week before have been the financial developments of the past few days. Unexpectedly unfavorable as the situation at the Genoa Conference has proved to be and unpromising as the progress that has been made in the development of a harmonious position on currency and foreign exchange as that place its effect both on this and the London market has been about as small as could be expected. Far more important, locally speaking, is to be ascribed to the bonus revival in the Senate which now apparently threatens to result in presenting a measure of some kind to President Harding.

Bonus and Other Legislation
Not only the bonus but a good deal of other pending legislative and executive action is of first importance to the market. The action of the Administration with regard to oil lands has naturally excited a direct influence upon prices which on the whole has been favorable to the domestic oil companies. At the same time the apparently impending recognition of President Obregon of Mexico tends to confirm the advance both in the Mexican oils and in the stocks of other corporations with large Mexican interests. There is an increasing degree of importance in the tariff schedules whose effect is already seen in a good many groups of securities. The renewed threat of the bonus has already had a bad effect upon Liberty bonds and indirectly upon the prices of other securities which are affected by Treasury conditions in one way or another. Should a sales tax be enacted, as is now proposed by Senator Smoot in the form of an amendment to the bonus bill it would of course come as an addition to existing taxation, and if included, as many expect, a severe tax upon transfer of stocks and bonds the result would be of course exceedingly unfavorable to the investment market.

Continuation of Industrial Advance
Judge Gary's address before the U. S. Steel stockholders in which he estimated an average operation to the extent of about 75 per cent of capacity in the steel plants of the country was naturally very encouraging to those who have been confident of the future of the metal industry. Equally reassuring has been the report of steady advance in orders placed with equipment companies while copper conditions have also gained ground. The prosperity of automobile manufacturers seems to bid fair to attain something like the level which they had reached in the early post-war period. Activity is now spreading decidedly into nearly all basic industries and talk about unemployment has practically ceased although there is still of course some of it in various parts of the country.

Volume of New Financing
A striking feature of the present financial situation is seen in the great volume of new financing which has come upon the market during the past month. Not only have foreign countries found it surprisingly easy to place their bonds here at a satisfactory rate of interest when stated in dollars, but a definite opening for bonds stated in foreign currencies is now beginning to be observable. The marketing of domestic issues has gone ahead with unusual success and the reduction in actual net cost of interest which has taken place since the opening of the year although not quite so noteworthy as in the case of Government offerings is nevertheless almost unprecedented. A singular feature of the situation is found in the fact that although business and railway enterprises are thus appealing with success to the investor, their calls upon bankers for commercial advances seem to be limited and are increasing but slowly. The result is to leave the banks largely free to use their surplus funds in call and time loans.

RADIO PROGRAM IS HEARD FROM DAYTON BY CLUB

A one hundred per cent attendance of Rotarians, and ninety boys attended the radio program, sponsored by the Xenia Rotary Club, at the Chamber of Commerce, Monday evening.

Preceding the program, a banquet was served by Jacob Kahn, C. L. Jobe, chairman, presided at the meeting, while Dr. B. R. McClellan, extended the address of welcome to the boys, explaining the meaning of the Rotary Club, and its aims and ideals.

The second address of the evening was given by A. H. Sterling, wireless operator of Dayton, who gave an interesting talk on radio.

The radio program of the evening was enjoyed by the audience, particularly the music furnished by the Rotary Glee Clubs who went to Dayton, to have their programs broadcast over the state, and country. The radio program was broadcast from the Rike-Kumler Company of Dayton.

HUNTER TO MANAGE NEW OIL PLANT

N. N. Hunter, Jamestown hardware and automobile dealer, will manage the new distributing plant of the Xenia Oil Co., which will be opened in Jamestown, about May 1, according to S. J. Burns, manager of the Xenia plant.

The new Jamestown plant will be a wholesale station located at the corner of Church street and the Bowersville road, where it is now being built. Storage tanks will be installed, to take care of a large quantity of the Oil Company's products. Oil and gas trucks will operate with headquarters at the Jamestown plant, which will be installed to serve territory in and around Jamestown.

while the lack of regular commercial business dictates to them the wisdom of so doing.

Better Agricultural Prospects
Coinciding with this improved outlook in the industrial and financial fields is the better agricultural prospect which has made itself evident of late. The steadily improving prices for farm products are encouraging a substantial acreage and the movement of products to market has been more satisfactory for some time past. What is still more favorable is the fact that retail and wholesale trade indexes are now showing better purchasing power in many of the agricultural districts while bankers report a growth of loan extensions that indicates an abundant supply of funds for legitimate farming demands. The fact that not only farm prices but also wholesale prices in other fields have moved upward, as shown by recent index numbers appears to suggest that they have now reached approximately the turning point in the shift from depression to business activity. Agricultural prices evidently passed that point some time ago.

Market Review and Outlook
The feeling of uneasiness which was so prevalent at the close of last week, owing to the market's rapid advances, has given place again to one of cheerfulness. The fact that the market has been able to readily absorb the rather heavy liquidation which has been under way only goes to show that the general public are eager to buy stocks when holders are willing to make concessions, and this is always an important element in a bull campaign. As frequently pointed out, the factors affecting the market are altogether of too constructive a nature to admit of any bad break taking place. This does not mean that after such a continuous upward performance there will not be danger of reactions. As a matter of fact, these are something that must now be counted upon, thus making the market more of a two-sided affair than heretofore. Still, as the improvement in business is now so generally recognized, nine people out of ten firmly believe that while there may be resting spells now and then as the year progresses prices will reach a higher level.

UPHOLD ORDER ON MARKED GOODS

Washington, April 25.—The powers of the federal trade commission to force its orders against the misbranding of goods by the manufacturers were upheld today by the United States Supreme Court.

The decision came on an appeal from the Winsted Hosiery Company which was directed by the commission in 1913 to stop branding wool and cotton stockings as "merino wool" unless the presence of cotton also was indicated. The company contended the federal trade commission had no authority to act as a pure products commission.

The supreme court of the United States today declared that the trade practices of the company were "unfair" and upheld the commission.

Spring Colorings

Below is an attempt to describe some of the Newest Colors of this Spring's Showings.

Beiladonna though named for a plant is one you might not know. A gorgeous reddish violet, you'll find.

Cactus like the plant of course, is green, but a soft green full of life and much used in blouses.

Majolica is radiant, sparkling like a jewel. Indeed it is a sapphire blue of exceeding great loveliness.

Wallflower is neither shy nor unattractive but quite spirited about the contrary, a deep burnt orange, full of zest.

Mimosa is a color you must surely know, so popular it is. A deep canary yellow by definition, delicate, gay, delightful.

Rubellite is its new Spring name but the same shade cavorted about last Winter as fuchsia. It's pretty enough to carry over.

Mirabelle, a deep peach shade is as delicate as the scent of the orchard. It is full of Spring's freshness.

Tiger Lily is a hue so rich that the henna family would claim it if they could, but it contains more of orange.

Serpentine upholds the Spring tradition for greens. It is a jade green, for sports togs unexcelled.

Prunella a light purple shade reigns this Spring where royal purple was formerly wont to.

Vervian, now would you ever guess that it was a lavenderish blue, very much the shade of cornflowers?

LOAN TO GERMANY CONSIDERED NEARER

Morgan has accepted an invitation to attend a meeting of allied bankers in Paris in a few weeks to consider the possibility of extending a loan to Germany was interpreted here today as advancing materially the chances of such a loan being floated.

The Paris meeting will be held at the invitation of the allied reparations commission.

If Germany can offer satisfactory terms and security a large block of German bonds can be floated in the U. S., in the opinion of Mr. Morgan. The local investment market is particularly favorable for the making of such a loan Mr. Morgan is quoted as saying.

The Home Building and Savings Company, alleges that money deposited by Rhoda M. Smith in that institution, has been encumbered by the claims of heirs of W. P. Humphrey to the money, in its answer and cross, petition filed following action brought by Rhoda M. Smith.

The plaintiff alleges that she deposited $500 with the institution and later lost the certificate of deposit. She alleged that she presented a $1,000 indemnity bond and demanded the money, but that the defendant company refused to give her the cash.

In the defendant's answer and cross petition the company admits the deposit and the presentation of the indemnity bond and that it refused to comply with the demand, but alleges that it has been notified by Carrie Woolley, and others, that they are heirs of W. P. Humphrey, and claim an interest in the money deposited in the institution by the plaintiff.

The defendant, further alleges that the plaintiff in the office of the defendant and in the presence of the company's assistant secretary, agreed not to withdraw any part of the principal without the knowledge of the claimants, and that the assistant secretary made a memorandum of this agreement in writing. The defendant company alleges, it is willing in being properly indemnified against loss, to pay the amount when the question of ownership is legally determined. On motion of the defendant, Carrie Woolley, Myrtle Hazlett, Cora Satterfield, Iona Ferree, Kate Smith and Will Humphrey, heirs of W. P. Humphrey, have been made parties defendant and will be required to set up their interest in the certificate. The answer and cross petition was filed by H. S. LeSourd, attorney for the defendant company.

HIGH WATER.

The writer, having lived for twenty-five years at Lawrenceburg, Ind., a high water swept town in the spring for many years, has a vivid recollection of the almost tragic conditions that he experienced there. And, of course, he can deeply sympathize with the poor people now rendered homeless by the high water on the Mississippi river, and many other rivers.

Lawrenceburg is twenty miles west of Cincinnati on the Ohio river and two miles south of the Miami river, which there divides Ohio and Indiana. Between the Miami river and Lawrenceburg are bottom lands which overflow with every high water. Before my removal from Lawrenceburg we had experience with a number of these "wet spells," when the water came two or three feet deep in our house. But later, in 1882-83-84, it was worse, rising to 71 feet above low water mark, which brought it ten feet deep on the highest street of the town. In many of the latter cases it even reached the second story rooms and destroyed household goods stored there, the people having taken refuge on higher adjoining grounds.

We will name one or two experiences. On the 14th of February, 1883, looking from a second story window in a hotel we read the sign, across the street, "Valentines," on a board at the top of a seven foot store door, the high water just tipping the sign. Once, on account of two feet of water in the home, the remains of a friend had to be removed to the Methodist Church to await burial, and had to be taken to the cemetery on a train, all roads being under water. Once we rode in a skiff over the chimney of a house in the lowest part of the town. One family removed their piano to a drug store in the center of town, but it was water soaked. A friend bank cashier put on his old hat and hung his best one on the gas fixture by the ceiling, but lost the best one.

These may be things to smile about, but the damage from the high water was so great that at one time the town had to call on help from abroad to put the wrecked homes in order to live in. We, far from any threatening streams, can scarcely realize the menace of the latter.

The nearest trouble came to us was the Dayton flood. And we were glad to have a Dayton friend tell us, the other day, that he and others had made special examination, during the extremely wet spell of the last few weeks, and are convinced of the positive success of the "Miami Conservancy" to deliver them from another like disaster. This is splendid news.

"NANCY."

Nancy Langhorne Astor, of the British Peerage and the House of Commons, it is a pleasure to have you on this side of the Atlantic. We have been hearing a lot about you. We like a good deal of what you have to say about the need for "common sense" in the world. If you have brought a goodly consignment with you, your welcome will be so much the warmer. There is not any too much common sense on this side of the water.

You seem a most capable and altogether refreshing sort of a person. You bring no "ghosts" in your luggage, you have no "message" and are without a mission "to come over into Macedonia and help us." Honestly, it is a relief to know that you are not "just another one of those lecturers" who want to uplift us, or enlighten us, or do things to our habits or our mentalities.

You are a member of the House of Commons, yes of "the Mother of Parliaments," but that does not impress us very much. You see, we have had our own Congress-women. There was a girl from Nevada awhile back and "Aunt Alice" Robertson is now in the House. We are not greatly fussed about your being an "M. P." or that you are Lady Astor, but it does sort of warm our hearts to find that you are still almost outrageously good-looking and that you are even more charming than you were when you were little Nancy Langhorne and went a-riding down the Virginia lanes.

We are not concerned much about the formal sort of reasons for your trip. Somehow we like to feel that you have just taken it into your head to come "back home" for a spell and visit around with your kith and kin and the "home folks" and all your relations. Yes, you are Lady Astor, but we refuse to take the title seriously. After all, you are that little Nancy Langhorne from down in Virginia who married one of the Astor boys and moved away to England to live.

And Nancy Langhorne Astor, don't let them make too much of a fuss over you. They will do that if you don't watch them and check them up. We have a lot of folks in this country, as you will remember, who are built that way. Don't take them, or any of us, too seriously. We know that you are not taking yourself that way and that helps—remarkably. You must know, however, that "they" are expecting some smart little jests, for in this native land of yours it has been whispered on about everything but the bill-boards that you are "a wit." For the serious line those same utterances you described the other day as "platitudes" will do nicely. But don't let them lead you "to talk too much—" if you get what we mean.

You will mingle tears and smiles when you hear "Dixie" once again. Maybe you will come upon a treasure trove of new "darky stories." Anyway, here's hoping that you "stay your visit out" and that you have a happy time of it every hour.—Public Ledger.

THE NATIONAL DEBT.

Eliot Wadsworth, assistant secretary of the Treasury, discloses in a recent statement that while only 15 per cent of the federal governments revenue at present goes for peace-time operation of the government, the other 85 per cent going for war expenditures, past and present, there are no funds to reduce the national debt, which is now $23,000,000,000. Before this country's entrance in the war in 1917 it was $1,000,000,000. Receipts from all sources are barely enough to meet interest charges and pay current obligations. Yearly interest charges on the national debt now are equal to the total debt five years ago.

There is a probability that government receipts will fall $500,000,000 short of meeting national obligations for the current year. The only likelihood of betterment, as Secretary Wadsworth indicates, is in a reduction of government expenditures, but there is a limit to which that may be carried in safety.

The American government has a decided advantage over European nations involved directly in the war. The financial system of the United States stood the test of the war, and there is no problem of a depreciated currency. The American dollar is sound.

The importance of economy should be impressed upon congress and all authorities in authority in the government. If the debt is to be reduced, it can only be done by creating a treasury surplus instead of a deficit.

KINDA SEEMS AS IF SOMEBODY OUGHT TO GO OUT AND HOLD AN UMBRELLA OVER HIM OR SOMETHING.

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

The old council last night passed out of existence, five new members taking their seats, and an organization for the coming year being effected. L. M. Garfield was elected president, with George Stiles, vice president.

The high wind which came on last night about three o'clock, has the effect of keeping the telephone people on the jump today in getting the wires in shape again. The roof of the Christian Church at Yellow Springs was blown away, with several small buildings.

Mr. L. F. Clevenger has taken a position as an assistant at Ed Schmidt's Grocery.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

We thought that we were going on one grand holiday when we were handed our diplomas and people clapped their hands as we left the stage.

But now we have learned that we were just entering school, that in a much larger sense we had to go right to work studying our lessons the same as before—but in a more serious manner than ever.

We have to keep reverting to the earliest hours of childhood, that we may not become too artificial. A friend wrote me a letter the other day. She was talking about her life work, which is to make children happier. This is what she wrote, and it was so true and simple that I want to quote the words to you:

"There's no taste in all the world as downright, as fresh, as executing, as uncompromising as a child's. They want what they want and they don't want what they don't want. We call them whimsical and ourselves definite. Nothing of the sort. They are the definite ones. We are the ones who take substitutes."

We ought to walk into a child's world often and go to school all over again.

Everyday brings its fresh lesson. Do not lay it aside until "tomorrow"—for tomorrow will bring a lesson of its own, as new as that which is given you for today.

Grow as you learn.

Let that which comes to you pass

HELPED HER MOTHER WONDERFULLY.

In these days of "flu," coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, it is well to know that every year there are used more bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar than of any other cough medicine. Mrs. S. L. Hunt, 515 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, Ohio, writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar relieved me of a hacking cough, tickling in the throat, wheezing and pains in the chest. It is helping my mother wonderfully." That's why druggists recommend Foley's. Sayre & Hemphill.

DENTISTS ADVERTISE AS ETHICAL BAN IS LIFTED

(San Francisco Chronicle.)

A postcard campaign for better care of the teeth, now being waged under the aegis of the National Dental Association, indicates that one more of the so-called "ethical" professions has recognized the necessity of advertising.

The dentists realize that the only way to get their message over to the public is to tell it in type. But in this campaign they have adopted the most expensive possible form of advertising. However, they are beginners and experience will show them that the most economical and effective way to tell their story will be to come out in the open and tell it through the columns of the newspapers of the United States.

Nevertheless, the dentists are showing more enterprise than the architects, who led them by a couple of years in removing the ban on advertising. So far as it appears the architects have not even taken the trouble to send out postcards. They are still sitting in their offices dealing exclusively with their old lists of clients.

This is not only to their loss, but is to the disadvantage of the cities of America, which are filling up with buildings, big and little, much the worse for lack of the touch of a skilled architect's hand. It is undoubtedly true also that the fee of a competent architect represents a saving of money to the builder because as an expert he knows how to give his client the most building for the money.

THE SILENT ONES.

I hobble by the churchyard fence and to myself I sigh, "I hope it may be long years hence when with those lads I lie. It must be rotten to be dead, and planted here outdoors, no more to paint the village red, or read the baseball scores." Yet I am but a gloomy wreck of what I used to be; I have nine boils upon my neck, a spavin on my knee. I've just recovered from the flu, which racked my weary frame; and I have aches in every thw, and I am sore and lame. And yonder sleepers have no ills that torture flesh and bones; they do not have to live on pills until the spirit groans. They're done with every kind of pain, and every throb is gone, and in the sunshine and the rain they slumber calmly on. Oh, every morning brings new grief to this sad life of mine, and all day long I sit and beef beneath my fig and vine. A change of wind will make me sick, and if I'm in the rain the maladies come fast and thick and fill my bones with pain. My feet get wet and fever comes, and to my bed I go, and lie and gnash my toothless gums for long days, in my woe. But when I pass the churchyard wall I shiver and exclaim, "May it be long before I fall for yonder sexton's game!"

WILBERFORCE WILL HAVE AN UNUSUAL SPEAKER IN JUNE

The pleasant surprise which President J. A. Gregg promised some weeks ago for the annual commencement exercises of Wilberforce University, was made known Sunday morning at the close of the services in the Auditorium of Galloway Hall.

Hon. Robert Wilberforce of Oxford University, England, great grandson of William Wilberforce after whom Wilberforce University was named, will deliver the Commencement address on June 15th.

Mr. Wilberforce, a scion of the famous Wilberforce House, is the director of the British Library of Information in the United States. He has postponed a trip to England in order that he may pay a visit to the oldest and largest institution for the education of the colored youth in America, owned and controlled by the Negro race, and which bears his family name. President Gregg is congratulating upon securing Mr. Wilberforce for the occasion, and his coming is epochal in the life of the institution and is a fitting ending of a year that has seen the largest enrollment in the history of the University, 1,414 young men and women who have matriculated in the present school year.

Bishop T. N. Ross, of the 12th Episcopal District, embracing the work of the A. M. E. Church in the state of Arkansas, will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 11th; Rev. J. C. Anderson of the Wylie Avenue A. M. E. Church, Pittsburgh, will speak to the Religious Societies; Chaplain T. G. Stewart of Wilberforce will address the students of Payne Theological Seminary and Rev. G. A. Edwards of Kittrell College, N. C., will speak for the Literary Societies.

It is the plan of the administration to make this commencement a great home-coming occasion for graduates and former students as well as friends of Wilberforce. A pilgrimage to the site of old Shorter Hall, the heart and soul of the educational activities of the institution is planned, and it is hoped that an enthusiastic support to the new building proposition will be engendered thereby.

JOHN ROBINSON'S CIRCUS TO PERFORM IN DAYTON

There are over one thousand people with the circus and over seven hundred animals. The big top will seat 10,000 people. The city of tents will actually cover eleven acres of ground the advance agents state.

The street parade nearly two miles in length, with all cages and dens of wild beasts open to view, will afford the circus day crowds many novel sights.

Styles BY LENORE

Those whose attraction for the one-piece frock has not waned them away entirely from the once popular middie, or jumper dress, will welcome this attractive model, shown this season by no less a designer than the famous Poriet. As it is a frock that has been specially created for cool days at seashore or mountain resorts. kasha cloth has been used, in a rich dark blue, not quite so dark as navy.

As to the graceful folded collar, and the up-turned cuff in the middie, how I wish I could show this material in color! It is a soft crepe material, printed with a Chinese pattern in cornflower blue, orange and black on a white ground. You will find these lovely new cotton prints at any of the large stores. The skirt is knife pleated.

For the young woman at school or in a business office this type of dress is a particularly good investment.

CLEVER PROGRAM GIVEN BY AUXILIARY.

The most entertaining program ever presented by the members of the American Legion Auxiliary, was given Monday evening in the Legion rooms when members of the organization presented the clever comedy "The Neighbors" for the benefit of the other other members and their friends.

The program was given on the occasion of guest night, seventy-five people including members of the auxiliary and their friends attending.

Those who took part in the play, were Miss Henrietta Evers, who had charge of the sketch; Miss Helen Evers, Mrs. Harry Keirnan; Miss Katherine O'Dea, Miss Betty Leahy; Miss Margaret Wead, Mrs. Bernice Swabb, Mrs. James Leahy and Mrs. C. L. Whittington.

Following the program the remainder of the evening was devoted to a social time, refreshments being served. A collection was taken during the evening, for the Flower Fund of the organization, a good sum being realized.

The hostesses of the evening were Mrs. D. J. Hollencamp, chairman, Mrs. Charles L. Darlington, Jr., Mrs. William Praver, Miss Mary Foody, and Miss Marie Fisher.

Rev. Busler of the M. E. Church, Cedarville was a visitor among friends here Saturday.

Marion G. Ruine is now able to lie up and about the house after a serious attack of pleurisy.

H. S. Anadmsen of South Monroe Street and Pennsylvania operator at "W. X." Tower, in the west end, after a week's illness was taken to Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, Sunday, suffering from a nervous collapse and his condition is reported as serious.

Answered Letters.

C. H. G.—The constant wearing of low shoes will not enlarge the ankles. If this habit made any difference at all in the ankles, it would be to make them more supple.

V. S.—Liquid powders are very drying to the skin which prevents most women from using them. Ask your doctor whether or not it is proper for you to take a cold bath every day throughout the month.

Reader—Hot baths will reduce the weight, but the body usually makes it up again.

Miss C.—I shall be glad to mail you a formula for removing freckles, if you send me a stamped addressed envelope.

Curley Hair—Most girls at 15 years of age should continue to wear the hair in some simple, though becoming style. A girl of 14 years, height 5 feet one should weigh about 100 pounds.

Thirty Two—The ridges that appear on some finger nails are due to a lack of oil. They will improve if you massage them each night with either cream or a nourishing oil. The ridges should be kept smoothed off by daily use of a pumice stone, taking care not to file the nails down until they are too thin, as that will cause them to crack.

L. C.—When peroxide is used as a bleach for freckles, it should not be diluted. Follow the treatment by an application of cold cream. Peroxide, used this way, will neutralize the natural secretions, leaving the skin too dry.

B. L.—If your body is rigid and stiff while you dance, it is because you tense all of your muscles. The way to overcome this is to relax. Get into the rhythm and let the music guide your motions. Forget that you have any muscles and you will be relieved of this embarrassment.

Try lemon juice and salt on the warts.

Bonny—If you have lines across your forehead at 28 years of age, it must mean that you have a bad habit of frowning. You can massage with cream and smooth out the lines with your finger tips in the same manner as if you were ironing out a crease in a garment. A little persistence in this would eradicate these lines, unless you continue to make them.

It will help you to overcome this habit if you place a small piece of court plaster over some portion of the skin, after you have smoothed it out, as it will always remind you each time you unconsciously make the frown. It does not take long to break up the habit if you are in earnest about getting rid of it.

Tomorrow—Facial Astringents.

ANSWERED LETTERS

A Reader of Your Paper: "Would you please print in your column whether pink or blue is now considered the color for baby clothes? I am in doubt as to how to dress my baby boy."

Answer: According to the largest manufacturer of infants' clothing in New York, blue is now the correct color for a boy.

Mrs. J. W.: "Can you give me any information regarding an indoor calla lily?"

Answer: A calla lily requires a rich soil and plenty of water, with the roots confined in as small a space as possible. If too large a pot is used the growth of the foliage will often be large at the expense of the flowers. By using a smaller pot and liquid manure, the flowers may be produced freely. A six-inch pot is right for all except an unusually large tuber. Or, if you prefer, you can grow a number of tubers in a large pot. The soil should be fibrous loam, and some sand. Plant the tubers firmly and set the pots in a cool place to take root. After the root partly fills the pot, the plant may be brought into heat and sun and given plenty of water. Sponge the leaves occasionally, when they have appeared, to keep them free from dust. No other treatment is necessary before the flowers appear—when liquid manure may be given to the plant. Also now set the pot in a saucer of water until it is thriving. Callas grow well through the entire year. But a calla which has bloomed all Winter will prove more satisfactory, both in leaf and flower, if you give it a rest through the Summer, which you can do by laying the pot on its side in a dry, shady place under shrubbery, or in the open but covered slightly with straw. Then, in September or October, shake the plant out of its pot clean off all the old earth and re-pot the plant. The off-sets may be taken off and set in small pots and given a year's growth resetting them the second year and having them in flower that Winter.

Mrs. C. E. G.: "Please tell me how to remove perfume stains from some of my pieces of ivory."

Answer: Ivory is cleaned by being rubbed with denatured alcohol. But this may not remove the perfume stains. I believe the only thing you can do now is to bleach it by placing it in the sun with lemon juice upon it. This though may not be successful in removing the stains.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant, bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

Miss G.: "The pattern on my kitchen oilcloth floor covering is wearing off in places. I should like to know if paint or varnish would help to preserve it?"

Answer: Apply white shellac with a brush. This brings out a faded color and preserves the surface of oil cloth or linoleum.

Mrs. D.: "The graining on a door has been scratched; and another door has been blistered by an oil heater which was left too near it. What can be done?"

Answer: There is nothing to be done for the blistered door except to sandpaper it down and do it over. But you could touch up the graining on the other door cleverly by using a tube of artists' oil paint the right color, and putting a few daubs of this on where needed.

Tomorrow—A Pretty Springtime Shower for the Bride Elect.

SAVE

Natural Gas

That Gas Burner and Your Gas Bills

The amount of gas that passes through your meter is the amount you pay for. Natural gas at present prices is the cheapest fuel known—but it costs money at that.

Let's see if you cannot obtain the same service for less money.

First, examine the gas burners on your cooking stove. If these burners are further away than 1 1/4 inch from the bottom of the pot or skillet, you are heating the air instead of your food.

Get a Blue Flame

Then if the flame burns yellow instead of blue, you are wasting gas. Set your mixer right—then be sure your burners are clean.

But if the gas "blows" you are letting too much of it through the mixer. Ideal cooking conditions call for a steady, noiseless, blue flame.

And if you are using a solid plate above the gas burner, throw it away and get a grid plate. Solid metal deflects heat away from your cooking, instead of applying it directly.

Try these simple things. They will make a difference in your gas bill, because they will save gas.

When you save gas you will be prolonging the supply. Unless many consumers do this, soon you will be cooking with other fuels.

Better your own service and save money—isn't that a sensible program?

"You children must finish your dinner!"

One of the first and most marked effects of Yeast Foam Tablets is to increase the appetite.

"If a growing child has no desire to eat, there is something serious the matter with him," says a noted specialist in the care and feeding of children. "A frequent and increasing cause of this failing or finicky appetite is lack of B vitamin."

This vitamin is found in greatest abundance in yeast; and Yeast Foam Tablets are made entirely of pure, whole concentrated yeast.

Give your child Yeast Foam Tablets. Watch him improve. Note how his appetite returns; how he will grow, put on normal weight and increase his strength and endurance!

Why many foods are deficient

Many raw foods which originally contained vitamin lose this element through "preparing processes" such as milling of wheat and other grains; refining of sugar; heating foods to high temperatures; discarding of water in which food is boiled, etc. The vitamin B thus lost can be quickly replaced by the addition to the diet of Yeast Foam Tablets.

Build up your child

If your child seems thin, under weight, delicate, irritable and always tired out, give him Yeast Foam Tablets. They are a simple, pleasant and notably efficient corrective—a food, not a medicine.

Foster, Oregon.—"I used Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for pains across the small of my back.
They bothered me so badly that I could do my work only with the help of my husband. One day he saw the ad. in our paper, telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing for women, so I began to take it. It has helped me wonderfully. I am feeling fine, do all my housework and washing for seven in the family. I have been irregular too, and now am all right. I am telling my friends what it has done for me and am sure it will do good for others. You can use this letter as a tes-

Doing the housework for a family of seven is some task. If you, as a house-lments caused by some weakness, give

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-

CLARENCE J. BROWN
SPEAKER AT SPRING

Lieutenant-Governor Clarence J. Brown, who is now a candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state, will be the speaker at the Spring Valley High School commencement exercises, to be held next Tuesday.

Lieutenant-Governor Brown, who is a Manchester newspaper publisher, will make his third visit to Greene County in the interests of the schools, when he comes to Spring Valley next week. On a previous occasion he visited a number of the schools of the county, delivering nine speeches in one day, and recently he delivered the address at the banquet honoring the county champions Jamestown High School basketball team.

The Lieutenant-Governor has not announced his subject for the graduation talk. Thirteen graduates will be presented with their diplomas by County Superintendent of Schools, H. C. Aultman, on the occasion. They are Misses Mary Beam, Dorothy Querry, Dorothy Burton, and Greenville Benson, Ralph Holmes, Leon Mills, Harold Sellers, William Scarff, William Peterson, Leo Willenburgh, Neil Compton, Ralph Hartsack and Howard Vandeman.

The largest crowd of eighth grade graduates in the history of Spring Valley Township will be given certificates showing that they are eligible to attend high schools next year, at Mass Day exercises, to be held in the Town Hall at Spring Valley Friday afternoon, with the program starting at one o'clock.

Thirty-five eighth grade graduates will be presented with their certificates on that occasion by Assistant Superintendent, D. H. Barnes. Friday marks the end of both the high school and grade terms in the township since the school year was cut from nine to eight months this year, because of lack of funds. The afternoon program will consist of a Patriotic Pageant, in which all the schools of the township will take part and under the direction of Walter Sayres, director of music.

The eighth grade graduates are Catherine Holland, Viola Curry, Maude Peterson, Carl Evans, Marguerite Bogan, Theodore McIntyre, Herbert Ford, Harry Hosier, Elizabeth Robinson, Carl Conrad, James Saunders, Margaret Querry, Lenna Beam, Elizabeth Evans, Carrie Williamson, Edgar Wilson, Lester Stump, Mildred Butcher, Ruth Wood, Vesper Benson, Laura Copsey, Florence Culp, Gladys Culp, Olive Gorham, Zoe Haines, Florence Hartsack, Helen Howard, Helen Pennicott, James Burton, Ralph Eagle, Raymond Norris, Herbert Ryan, Elwood Slusher, Elsie Smith and Myrtle Pawcett.

MARRIED IN COVINGTON
ACCORDING TO REPORT

According to a report received Tuesday, Lillian Anderson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Anderson, of this city, for whom Dayton police were asked to search last week, was married Thursday, April 20 to Louis Gonoff, of Miamisburg, in Newport, Kentucky. The couple is residing in Miamisburg, the report says where Mr. Gonoff is in business.

The girl left her home here a week ago Saturday, unknown to her parents who requested the Dayton police to look for her.

BRINGING UP FATHER

JAMESTOWN FIRM
ASKS COURT ACTION
ON PRIVATE SWITCH

The Greene County Grain Company of Jamestown seeks to obtain a permanent injunction against the use by others, than the plaintiff of an alleged private switch on The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Jamestown, in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court.

The suit names as defendants The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, The Xenia Oil Company and A. E. Smiley, local agent of The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company at Jamestown. The plaintiff company alleges that more than year ago, H. C. Trebein, then owner of the land owned by the plaintiff, permitted The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company to run its main track through his property on condition that the Company build a private switch for his use.

This agreement still exists according to the plaintiff, but the petition states that The Xenia Oil Company has now purchased property south of the plaintiff's property and that unless restrained the railroad company will permit the oil company to use the switch, which the plaintiff claims is private, and thereby injure the plaintiff's business. The plaintiff wants a temporary restraining order, and perpetual injunction. Marcus Shoup is attorney for the plaintiff and L. T. Marshall represents the Xenia Oil Company in the action.

CONFESSES JUDGMENT.

In the case of H. S. McCoy, administrator of the estate of B. S. McCoy, deceased, against Dewey Head, in Common Pleas Court, the defendant, attorney has entered an appearance and confessed a judgment in the amount asked for in the petition on a cognovit note. The judgment amounts to $126.78 including principal and interest.

DELAY IS ALLOWED.

On motion of the defendants, the temporary restraining order allowed in Common Pleas Court in the case of Harry B. Hole, against Joan Trebein, and others, has been dissolved. The order dissolving the restraining order however, has been suspended by the court, for four days to allow the defendants to appeal the action to the Appellate Court and the appeal bond has been fixed at $110.

CHECK EPIDEMIC
AT COUNTY HOME

The scarlet fever, epidemic at the Greene County Children's Home has practically been stopped according to County Health Commissioner R. H. Grube, who reports that no new cases of the disease have developed, outside of the eight previous cases.

The epidemic was entirely confined to the boys of the institution, the spread of the disease being prevented by a quarantine being placed on the boys' ward. Each victim of the disease was isolated, other precautionary measures being taken at once.

It will be a month before the institution will be entirely free from the disease, according to Dr. Grube.

MINERS' TRIAL IS UNDER WAY NOW
IN WEST VIRGINIA

Governor Morgan of West Virginia; Colonel Jackson Arnold, supt. of state police and several deputy sheriffs and a justice of the peace from Logan who are alleged to have been captured by the miners and held prisoner until the arrival of federal troops. The story of the exciting days in late August and early September of 1922, when from six to ten thousand men gathered at Marmet in the shadow of the state capital and marched across Boone county to the rough mountains which formed a natural defense for Logan and of the bloody battles which for a week raged along the forty mile battle front will be retold before an unprejudiced venire of twelve men.

The tale of the elaborate preparations made by the authorities in Logan county are expected to prove one of the features of the trial.

While several thousand men, armed with rifles, guarded the front machine guns from concrete emplacements showered lead and steel against the advancing miners and airplane scouts and bombing crafts circled overhead.

Behind the front, a well disciplined service of supply, conducted by old men, women and children, prepared food and articles of necessity for the men in the mountain trenches.

The state claims to have witnesses who will swear that they were "conscripted" into the miners "army" from these the prosecution hopes to back their indictments charging miners with intention of overthrowing the Logan and Mingo county governments.

The defense, when its evidence is presented, proceeded to make remarkable disclosures as to the means employed by the operators to present unionization of the Logan and Mingo county coal fields and to justify the march by the assertion that they were forced to defend their own lives and their right to organize.

GERTIE DETERMINES TO BE DIFFERENT

"Say Gertie Jim Denton has asked me to go to Coney Island Sunday, why don't you and Len come along? You'll be a long time dead and you might as well have a little fun while you live." Lilly and Gertie were on their way home. Gertie had teased her about it before suggesting she and Len should go to Coney Island. "All right! If Len asks me I'll go." "Asks you! Why he'll tumble all over himself he'll be so tickled. He's stuck on you, Gertie."

That don't mean nothing to me. "You're a quipper girl. Len makes lots of money. He's good looking too." He was in a big, coarse kind of a way.

"Well, I told you I'd go if he asked me, didn't I? But I won't stand for any nonsense, Lilly. I hate the fellows when they get fresh."

"All I got to say is you've got to let them be a bit fresh if you have any fun with them. They think they deserve something for their money."

Sunday morning dawned bright and lovely. Len acting on a hint from Lilly, had asked Gertie to go and she had accepted.

"Ever toddled at Larimore's?" Len asked as they rolled along in the crowded subway. He had found seats for the four, and they were laughing and chatting, amused because of the crowd who failing to be so fortunate had grumbled at Len's pushing until he had seated his party.

"No I never been there."

"Swell place! Dandy music too."

"That's nice."

Perhaps she could have some good times even if she did hold herself like a good girl.

Len leaned forward her: "You look awful sweet today," he said not troubling to lower his voice. "We'll show them a thing or two when we get on the floor."

Gertie didn't share his enthusiasm over dancing. She had enough of that at Fagin's. She would rather sit on the beach, or go to some of the shows. But she didn't say so. She had promised Lilly she would try to join in the fun, and if they wanted to dance why she'd dance.

They went directly to the dance hall. In the waiting room Len pulled a flask from his pocket and poured a drink into a collapsible cup.

"I always go prepared," he said, offering it to Gertie after he had carefully filled it. "It's good stuff! Won't hurt you."

But I never drink anything, Len." "This is an extra occasion, just a swallow."

Gertie just touched her lips to the edge of the cup, more in response to a look from Lilly, than to please Len. The stuff burned her throat and she choked a little, making them laugh. "Loow here," Len said, "if you didn't want to have a little pep and enjoy yourself what'd you come for?"

"I can enjoy myself without that! It would make me sick."

"Don't coax her, Len," Jim Dalton broke in, "more for the rest of us."

Lilly took only a sip, but she did it with a swaggering air that saved her from criticism. The two men took a drink then Len put the cup and the bottle into his pocket.

"There's more when you want it," he said, "and it cost money nowadays I paid $10 for a bottle last night."

"Won't they arrest you if they know you have it?" Gertie asked almost wishing she hadn't come. "They raided Fagin's one night. I was scared most to death. Isn't it against the law to have it in your pocket?"

"It's my pocket! I'd like to see them touch me!" Len replied, then seeing the worried look on Gertie's face said: "Don't worry, Gertie. I'll not let anything happen while you are with me."
